WHAT EMINENT LONDON PHYSICIANS SAY OF BRITAIN'S RIVIERA DEVON & CORNWALL

"If you want a soft, mellow climate, then let me advise Devonshire or Cornwall. Devonshire is to England what Normandy is to France, a county of surpassing beauty, both as regards its littoral—which is studded with charming watering places—and its interior—which presents every variety of English scenery and much of that you would find abroad."

"Cornwall is becoming a very serious competitor with Italy and Southern France. I cannot believe it will be long before most people will discover the delightful climate of this place, where palm trees are flourishing in the open air."

"A farm in Devon or Cornwall is an ideal place for the neurotic subject."

The Royal Spa of England.

Royal Leamington Spa, in the heart of England, is noted for its saline springs (radio-active), and the beneficial effect of the "cure" in cases of Gout, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Dyspepsia, and Functional Disorders of the Liver.

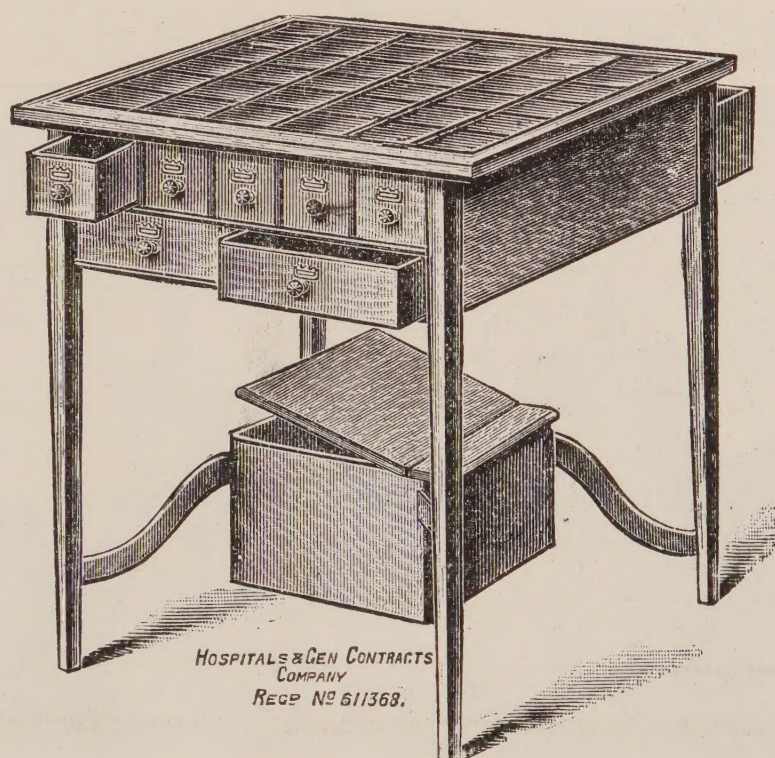

The latest and best appliances known to Balneology have been provided; indeed, Dr. Gustav Monod, of Vichy, declares that he saw nothing to surpass the Leamington Pump Room Establishment (first opened just a century ago) at any of the English Spas he visited.

Winter fogs are practically unknown at Leamington, and the town's climate is markedly dry and equable. The beauty of the site and surroundings of the Royal Spa, its convenience as a headquarters for visitors to Shakespeare's La d, and its amenities in general, enable it to challenge comparison with the most popular Continental rivals.

For any information as to baths and treatment, address THE MANAGER, Royal Pump Rooms.

MUSEUMS IN CONNECTION WITH THE CONGRESS

Two Museums have been organised in connection with the Congress :

- (1) A MEDICAL MUSEUM, organised by a special Committee;
- (2) A MUSEUM OF THE HISTORY OF MEDICINE, established by Mr. H. S. WELLCOME.

The Medical Museum occupies two large rooms in the Imperial College of Science, South Kensington, and is arranged so that each Section of the Congress is represented (with the exception of Sections XIII. and XVI.). Specimens which are the subject of papers at various Sections of the Congress are also included in the Museum. The Museum Committee will arrange for the dispatch and return of specimens required at each Sectional Meeting. A descriptive catalogue has been prepared by the Secretary of the Museum Committee, Mr. H. W. Armit (to whom all communications should be addressed, Imperial College of Science, South Kensington, S.W.). The Museum will be opened from Wednesday, the 6th, to the evening of Wednesday, the 13th, from 10 to 6 each day.

THE EXHIBITION, which is located in the Great Hall and the two minor halls of the University of London, includes, amongst other interesting features, the following :—

Hospital design, construction, arrangement, and equipment.

Surgical and medical instruments and appliances.

Sanitary and other appliances for the ward and sick room.

As Exhibitors have been put to considerable expense in arranging very interesting displays solely for the profession, it is hoped that all delegates attending will take an early opportunity of visiting the Exhibition.

It will contain specimens illustrating the papers and discussions and also other material either dealing with the subjects of cancer of the uterus and hæmorrhage from the placental site or illustrating other investigations and observations of current interest.

An exhibition of old obstetrical instruments will be a special feature of the Museum. It will contain the whole of the collection now preserved at the Royal College of Surgeons and other old obstetrical instruments from British and foreign sources. The forceps invented and used personally by the Chamberlens will not be included in the collection, but can be seen in the library of the Royal Society of Medicine, 1 Wimpole Street, W., by members on presentation of their card of membership.

Ladies representing the section will attend daily at Queen Alexandra's House, next the Albert Hall, Kensington Gore, to be of assistance to foreign lady visitors.

Le département du Musée consacré à la section se trouve au plus haut étage du Collège. Il contient des pièces pathologiques désignées à illustrer les Discussions et les Communications, et représentant aussi les recherches et les observations récentes. L'exposition d'anciens instruments obstétricaux est d'un intérêt spécial. Elle contient l'entière collection aujourd'hui conservée dans le Royal College of Surgeons avec des autres provenant de sources anglaises et de l'étranger. Le forceps inventé par les Chamberlen, et actuellement employé par eux, n'y est pas compris, mais celui-ci est ouvert à l'inspection sur présentation de la Carte du Congrès dans la Bibliothèque de la Royal Society of Medicine.

Die Ausstellung von älteren geburtshilflichen Instrumenten ist von besonderem Interesse. Sie enthält die ganze Sammlung, welche sich jetzt im Royal College of Surgeons befindet, sowie andere englischen und fremden Ursprungs. Die von den Chamberlens erfundene und persönlich von ihnen gebrauchte Zange befindet sich nicht in der Sammlung, kann aber in der Bibliothek der Royal Society of Medicine besichtigt werden auf Vorzeigung der Mitgliedskarte.

THE QUESTION OF STARCH

Dr. J. P. O'Hea, M.B.(Lond.), F.R.C.S.(Eng.), writes in his work, "The Rearing of Children," p. 51: "It is true that Barley Water, which is so commonly used to dilute milk for babies, contains starch; but the amount is really very small, and is in very fine particles indeed, and causes no trouble. This is practically the only form of unaltered starch which will be found to agree."

The amount of starch in Barley Water when made from the prepared Barley according to the directions is less than $\frac{1}{5}\%$ (viz. 0.15).

EVERY MEDICAL MAN

is necessarily interested in the subject of heating the homes of his people, and the institutions, workshops, factories, and other large buildings of his country, by a means that promotes ventilation, coolness of the air—as distinct from the objects in the room which should be heated by radiant heat—cleanliness, absence of smoke and a minimum of labour.

The modern gas fire ensures all these conditions necessary to the hygiene of the home and of any place where human beings forgather.

Modern gas lighting also assists in the ventilation of buildings in which it is used, in sterilizing the atmosphere of the rooms, in preserving the eyesight of the occupants, and in saving the pockets of the users.

Evidence supporting these claims will be gladly furnished by—

The British Commercial Gas Association, 47 Victoria Street ——— London, S.W.

JEDER ARZT

bringt notwendigerweise grosses Interesse dem Studium der Art und Weise entgegen, die Wohnungen seiner Kundschaft und die Anstalten, Werkstätten, Fabrik- und andere grosse Gebäude seines Landes durch Mittel zu heizen, die die Zuführung von frischer und kühler Luft—im Gegensatz zu den im betreffenden Raume befindlichen Gegenständen, die durch strahlende Wärme geheizt werden sollten—Reinlichkeit, Rauchlosigkeit und die Verringerung der Arbeit auf ein Mindestmass begünstigen.

Das moderne Gasfeuer gewährleistet alle diesen zur Hygiene der Wohnung und jedwedes Raumes, wo sich Menschen versammeln, nötigen Bedingungen.

Die moderne Gasbeleuchtung trägt auch zur Lüftung der Gebäude, in welchen sie gebraucht wird, zur Sterilisierung der Luft in solchen Räumen, zur Erhaltung des Gesichtssinnes derjenigen, die sich darin aufhalten, und zur Verminderung der seitens der Gebrauchenden zu bestreitenden Unkosten bei.

Belege für diese Behauptungen werden bereitwilligst zur Verfügung gestellt, von—s'interessa necessariamente nello studio del migliore modo di riscaldare le abitazioni della sua clientela e degli istituti, officine, fabbriche ed altri grandi edifici del suo paese, per mezzo d'apparecchi che assicurino una buona ventilazione ed aria fresca—in contrasto degli oggetti trovantisi nell'ambiente stesso che dovrebbero riscaldarsi a mezzo di calore irradiante—pulizia, l'assenza di fumo ed un minimo di lavoro.

Il fuoco a gas moderno assicura tutte queste condizioni, che sono necessarie all'igiene della casa e di qualunque luogo in cui si radunino gli esseri umani.

L'illuminazione moderna a gas contribuisce pure alla ventilazione degli edifici in cui s'impiega, alla sterilizzazione dell'atmosfera degli ambienti, alla conservazione della vista di quelli che ci si trattengono ed infine alla diminuzione degli sborsi che hanno da fare coloro che l'usano.

Prove in conferma di queste asserzioni saranno fornite con piacere dalla—s'intéresse forcément à la question du chauffage des habitations de ses clients, et des institutions, des ateliers, des fabriques et autres grands édifices de son pays, par des moyens qui facilitent l'aérage, la fraîcheur de l'air—qu'il faut distinguer des objets renfermés dans les chambres et qui doivent être chauffés à la chaleur rayonnante—la propreté, l'absence de fumée et un minimum de travail.

Le feu au gaz moderne assure toutes ces conditions nécessaires à l'hygiène de l'habitation et de tout endroit où les êtres humains s'assemblent.

L'éclairage au gaz moderne contribue également à l'aération des maisons où il est installé, stérilisant l'atmosphère des chambres, préservant la vue des occupants et réduisant les frais de ceux qui s'en servent.

Des preuves à l'appui de ces affirmations seront fournies avec empressement par—

Purity and Security

All drugs supplied by Boots have to answer every known test for purity, or they are rigidly rejected. Over a thousand analyses are made every month, and the tests imposed are not merely those of the British Pharmacopœia, but tests far more stringent than those required by the British Pharmacopœia. As Truth states in reviewing the business of Boots Pure Drug Co. Ltd., "A passion for purity is displayed in regard to every article."

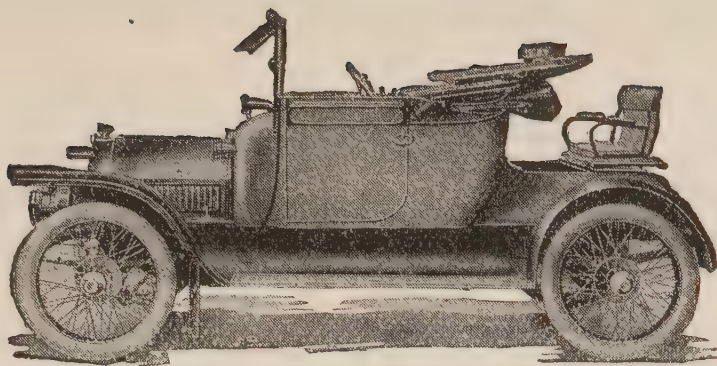

And though purity is vitally important, freshness is almost equally so. Medicine made up of stale drugs cannot possibly be of maximum efficiency. You cannot even be certain that it is medicinally active. Owing to the careful system of checking the supplies at their 555 branches, it is practically impossible to obtain stale drugs at Boots. The stocks at all their establishments are periodically tested, and any drug showing the least sign of deterioration immediately destroyed.

HAYDEN'S VIBURNUM COMPOUND.

This Preparation is most successfully employed to-day by thousands of physicians throughout the world.

It is a product of known composition, not a secret remedy, and its therapeutic efficiency is not alone due to the Viburnum Opulus, Discorea Villosa and Scutellaria Lateriflora of which it is composed, but also to the especial care in the selection of its component parts and the skill in their compounding.

This fact is in a large part responsible for the unvarying satisfactory therapeutic results that follow the administration of Hayden's Viburnum Compound in the treatment of menstrual irregularities and in obstetrical work.

Relief invariably follows the administration of Hayden's Viburnum Compound when given in teaspoonful doses in hot water to be repeated in twenty minutes. H.V.C. is a reliable anodyne and no disagreeable after effect follows its employment.

NEAVE'S MILK FOOD (Starchless). For Babies from Birth.

Dr. —, D.Sc., M.D., D.P.H. London, reports: "When diluted with 7 to 8 parts of water, the mixture would closely resemble human milk in composition. The fat would then be about 3 per cent. This is very satisfactory."

A Doctor writes: "Easily digested and highly nourishing . . . suitably diluted, is a safe substitute for a doubtful milk supply in hot weather."

A London County Council District Nurse reports: "That in her Municipal work she finds that Neave's Milk Food is the only Food she has ever known that babies can take in conjunction with mother's milk without being sick afterwards."

NEAVE'S FOOD for INFANTS, GROWING CHILDREN, INVALIDS, AND THE AGED.

Sir Chas. A. Cameron, C.B., M.D., writes: "An excellent Food, admirably adapted to the wants of infants . . . and being rich in phosphates and potash, is of the greatest utility in supplying the bone-forming and other indispensable elements of food."

"Of high value in cases of malnutrition and marasmus threatening life."—L.R.C.P., L.R.C.S. (Edin.), L.F.P.&S. (Glas.).

British Medical Journal: "Well adapted for the use of children and aged people . . . much used by mothers nursing and by invalids."

The late Samuel Barker, M.D., M.R.C.S., Co-Founder and Hon. Physician to the Royal Alexandra Hospital for Children, etc., says: "A readily digested and highly nutritious product containing a large percentage of the flesh-forming constituents. Being rich in phosphates, it is very useful where the teeth and bone development is tardy. It is also excellent for costive habits, being more laxative than some Foods."

The "JAMES" Patent Hospital Bed

Specially designed to facilitate the Open-Air Treatment of Tuberculosis.

THE bed upon which you can move your patient anywhere, and when stationary stands rigid. Your Nursing Staff will appreciate it for its ease of movement without fatigue and damage to floors. It considerably diminishes the amount of time which is usually spent in moving bedsteads, and is noiseless should it be necessary to take the bed down or to erect it in the ward.

Another important feature of the bed is the "Hoskins" Patent Bolted Corner, which gives greater strength and at the same time does away with the disadvantages of the old pattern dovetail, the frame being held in position by a bolt through the corners.

When it is necessary to move the patient the foot of the bed is slightly lifted off the floor and the weight is taken by the two wheels of the under-carriage. When at rest the stop at the head is screwed down on the floor in order to avoid tilting back.
